Westfield Savings Bank Reports Year Increases

WESTFIELD—Westfield Savings Bank recorded increases in all banking categories during the year ended March 31, with assets, savings deposits and real estate loans at record figures, Arthur W. Mr. Knapp said assets of Westfield Savings Bank on March 31 were $41,117,867 an increase of $2,328,629 for the year.

"I feel confident in saying that we can look with satisfaction in two directions — to the past and to the future," said Mr. Knapp, who was re-elected president during the meeting. "Our growth record is excellent, including the year we have just completed, and our future is most promising. I know that our new bank building at Elm and Chapel Streets will contribute importantly to the bank's growth and stature in the years ahead. We will be better able to serve our customers and we will be adding new services and increasing present services."

The election of two corporators during the meeting was announced by Mr. Knapp. They are: Alvah W. The number of Westfield Savings Bank depositors — at the main office in Westfield and at the West Springfield Branch — is close to 30,000, and the bank is, through its West Springfield Branch serving the thrift habits of more than 5500 school savers.

TROLLEY CARS

By Edith LaFrancis

The Suffield Street Railway opened a trolley line from Kent's Corners in Suffield to the State line in 1902. In 1905 this line was acquired by the New Haven Railroad along with many other trolley properties, and was then operated by the Springfield Street Railway (which was another of its holdings) through from Springfield to Suffield.

This line was later leased to the Hartford and Springfield Street Railway. Springfield crews took the cars as far as Kent's Corners, this point of meeting being changed in 1910 to the Power house on Mapleton Ave., "be-cause of mud at the Corners."

The power plant was located about where the pumping station is now. It also furnished power for lights in Feeding Hills for a few years.

"Ed" Mirick was motorman on this line for many years. Among the many stories of his experiences was the incident of how he had to operate a car all the way up from Suffield powerhouse without air brakes and with a hand brake that was not effective either, so that he had to use the power reverse lever in making all stops to Springfield.

The last car service south of the State line was the final Spring-field Windsor Locks run in Jan. 1924.

Service on the Feeding Hills line opened in 1902, the route was from the bridge up Walnut Street, Bridge, Maple and Springfield Streets. The ties used in construction of the section in North Agawam were cut from a woodlot on Adams St., by Charles Hull, who was in the lumber business at that time. Ezra Paddock was con-ductor on the first car over the line and Fayette Brown ran the second car into Feeding Hills. Mr. Brown had previously worked for Cook's Livery in West Springfield and often drove the horse and buggy taxi service from the train station at Mittineague to Agawam and Feeding Hills.

Three turnouts with double tracks were laid on this Feeding Hills route, at the Center, Hall St., and O'Brian's corner. For a few years a 5 cents fare carried a passenger from any part of Agawam to any part of greater Springfield. The mail came over from the city on the trolleys and the conductor would have the job of carrying or dragging the mail sacks into the post offices.

In 1902, the income the town received from trolley lines was over $3,300.

Trolleys were replaced with bus service on both lines in 1936, and the Springfield Company gave up its franchise in 1955.

(Picture shows trolley on Bridge St. In the background is St. Williams Church, built 1878 and burned in 1925).

is presently in a Building Fund Program to enlarge its facilities to the community. In every town there are people who, though not affiliated with the church, would like a share in the development of the spiritual life of the community. If you are counted in this group you are invited to participate by making your gift in the name of the church, care of P.O. Box 272, Agawam. The privilege of being a part of the development of the spiritual life of children and young people, in addition to adults, is a matter that all should take seriously. SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

I don't know who was responsible for obtaining the Pagani caterers for the West Springfield Fish and Game annual banquet Saturday, April 11, but they deserve a resounding slap on the back. The caterers come from Manchester, Conn., and they certainly know how to put out a meal.

The head table guests were Selectmen Connelly, Chriscola, and Charest, and their wives; Albert Christopher, president of the club, and his wife, and Bob Bernier, vice-president of the club, and his lovely wife. Other guests present: Francis Liberatori, Building Commissioner of Springfield, and his wife Ruth, Ettore and Mary Borgatti, Harold and Diane Sporbett, The Larry Scherpas, Enrico and Ann Cecchi, Tony and Mary Circo, and many more to numerous to mention.

The club raised $35.00 during the night for the Kids Fishing Derby to be held in the near future. The committee consisting of the following members, Fred Giordano, Phil Potter, Hap Fournier, Al Guidetti, and Norm Blair are doing a tremendous job in raising money for the derby. So far for three days of fishing in the club pond, $52.25 has been put into the pot.

The club pond pre-season fishing has been a huge success. The club has dumped nearly 500 trout in the water with the length of the fish running from 9 inches to 16. The first day of fishing 95 trout were caught. The youngsters have been having a ball.

Vermont Season

The Vermont fishing season will open state-wide the last Saturday in April for Brook, Brown, Rainbow, and Lake Trout, Salmon, Pike Perch, and Walleyed Pike. Black Bass will open the 2nd Saturday in June. A non-resident fishing license fee is $6.25 for the season. You can obtain a three-day consecutive license for $2.25, and a 14-day fishing license for $4.25. The licenses can be bought at any Town Clerk's office.

A reminder that a non-resident can obtain a resident hunting and fishing license if he owns real estate in Vermont upon which he pays taxes of $70 or more per year; is a student at college or university within the State at which he has completed two successive semesters; and if he is a member of the armed forces stationed in Vermont on Active duty. However, a certificate from his commanding officer is required before a license will be issued.

The latest dope from the Division is that all the streams and lakes have been stocked in Mass. The only fish to be put out later will be done on the in season schedule. The likely spots will be the Deerfield River, Westfield River, North Pond, Congamond, Dean, Woodman, and Leadmine. There are many more that have been stocked, and a list of the waters can be obtained from the Westboro headquarters.

Last Monday, April 13, the Library Staff visited the Smith College library in Northampton, Mass. Every year the staff visits one of the surrounding libraries. Thirty juniors and seniors accompanied by Mrs. Holmes, the AHS librarian, enjoyed a tour of the famous Smith campus and library. The students saw the many research material available to the college students.

Last year the staff visited the Westover Air Force Base Library. They also saw the operations of the base, the airplanes, and the Officers' Lounge where they enjoyed their lunch.

SQUARE DANCE

By Norm and Dot Jenks

Spirits were high for Dick Steele was back in the swing again last Friday evening. Guests from several of the area clubs were welcomed by Charlie Nathan, the program chairman. Dick brought us up to date on some of the new calls and then really stepped up the time with some fast moving dances.

We were indeed sorry to hear about Doug Cochrane's accident. He is suffering with one broken and two crushed fingers. Certainly hope they mend soon.

BANNER DANCE!

This Saturday, April 18th, we are going to gather together and make a visit to the Twirl 'N Twisters Club in Ellington, Conn. The dance will be held at the St. Luke's Church Hall with Don Atkinson calling. We will meet at the rear of the Agawam Town Hall at 7:30 p.m. to double-up in cars. Come and help us get their banner.

COMING EVENTS

April 24th . . . Paul Pratt, Feeding Hills Congregational Church; May 4th . . . Co-ordinators Ball, Mountain Park, Club officers only; May 8th . . . Dick Steele, Robinson Park School.
